

Language Trainer Dutch/English for non-native speakers

Give your career wings!

Aviato Academy aims to become the largest knowledge platform within the airport's aviation industry. We believe in a bright and sustainable future, enhancing the quality, safety, and security of airport operations. Do you want to help shape the airport of tomorrow?

Your destination

To strengthen our team, we are looking for a Dutch/English Language Trainer for non-native speakers (M/F/X). You will teach Dutch/English according to the CEFR levels A1, A2, and B1 to help non-native employees understand daily operational processes. Your goal is to impart the necessary workplace knowledge so that non-native employees can understand work instructions at various language levels, ultimately aiming to elevate their proficiency in Dutch/English. This covers the language and skills that employees need to be able to communicate and work successfully.

Your flight instructions

- You teach Dutch and/or English to non-native speakers according to the CEFR levels A1, A2, and B1.
- You provide tailored Dutch and/or English courses for non-native newcomers.
- You employ an intensive sector-focused approach.
- You improve the general language skills needed to enhance workplace safety.
- You evaluate employees at scheduled times and report the results to them and Aviato Academy.
- You compile structured findings on individual and collective competencies and areas for improvement.
- You manage the training administration, process findings, and report conclusions and improvement suggestions.
- You make suggestions to utilize a varied mix of theoretical and practical exercises, supported by a structured and pedagogical approach.
- You regularly evaluate the training materials of Aviato Academy through reports and improvement proposals.
- You pursue continuous professional development to achieve and maintain the necessary qualifications as a language trainer.

Your passport

- You hold a bachelor's degree.
- You have an excellent command of Dutch/English (native level) and a good knowledge of French.
- You have experience in training/teaching staff in the private sector.
- You employ a structured, pedagogical approach.
- You are flexible and mobile, capable of providing training at various locations.
